

X15 Rockets 47 Miles High at 4,093 mph

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocketed more than 47 miles into space today, achieving its designed altitude maximum and setting a new altitude mark in the process.

Air Force Maj. Robert M. White, holder of the X15 speed record of 4,093 miles an hour, was at the controls.

His altitude was given as 250,000 feet—precisely what he aimed for. His speed was approximately 3,682 m.p.h.

The little research plane's designed maximum is 250,000 feet. On a similar mission by space agency pilot Joe Walker last April the X15 fell a little short, hitting only 246,700 feet. In future flights, with the engine burning longer, it is expected to soar beyond 300,000.

At the peak of his flight, White radioed: "Boy, what a view. Just tremendous." He was able to see for hundreds of miles.

Today's performance was to demonstrate that the manufacturer, North American Aviation, could meet the plane's altitude specifications.

It required White to:

Shoot to at least 250,000 feet with an 80-second blast of the ship's 57,000-pound-thrust engine; coast weightless in the thin air at the edge of space while a super-sensitive "adaptive control system" took over; plunge pancake style with nose 20 degrees higher than tail back into the earth's thicker atmosphere, then swoop down for a 200 m.p.h. landing on the flimsy mud of Rogers Dry Lake.

Achievement of the altitude goal came just three years after the first X15 flight and seven months after attainment of the designed speed of 4,000 m.p.h.

In future flights the X15 will go gradually higher, but probably no faster, as it explores the problems of heat and control that space travelers will encounter in returning to earth.

Birthday Party Today for W. E. Bruner, 94

MR. BRUNER FOUNDED THE ORIGINAL FIRM, W. E. Bruner & Sons, in Heber Springs, Ark., but purchased the Ivory-

Handle Co. of Hope and consolidated the firms as Bruner-Ivory Handle Co. here in 1933. That was the bottom of the great depression — the year the banks were closed with a "holiday" — but the firm prospered and is today Hope's largest manufacturing plant.

ARRANGED ON THE TABLE, ALONG WITH THE BIRTHDAY cake, is a collection of old handles manufactured in the original Bruner plant at Heber Springs. Hope Chamber of Commerce obtained these from former employees at Heber Springs, and gave them to Mr. Bruner along with Heber Springs letters of appreciation.

Saturn to be Eclipsed by Moon Tonight

Sky-watchers are reminded that the moon will occult the planet Saturn beginning at 12:05 just after midnight (Thursday), the planet emerging from shadow at 12:36 a. m.

This information was given The Star by Talbot Feild of Texarkana, former Hope citizen and a well known amateur astronomer. He eclipse first began last midnight, Wednesday, and is repeated tonight, Thursday.

Mr. Feild wrote The Star as follows:

"A telescope of at least 50 power will be best to observe the planet's rings distinctly. However, observers with good binoculars will be able to watch the gradual brightening of the planet as it emerges from the dark side of the moon."

The celestial show will appear in the southeastern sky. Mr. Feild's point that a 50 power telescope is needed, is well taken. The Star's editor watched Wednesday midnight with a 7x50 binocular, hoping to get a picture with the newspaper's 15-inch telephoto lens — but was unable to sight the show. The moon rose in a cloudy sky but was in the clear at midnight.

Really Meant He Would Be Back

MEMPHIS (AP) — When Earl Mitchell, 56, appeared in court Tuesday on a drunk charge, the judge asked him if he had ever been in court before—to which Mitchell replied:

"No sir, but you sure have a fine place here."

"Well if I let you go this time will you come back?" asked the judge.

"Sure, judge, I'd be glad to come back anytime," responded Mitchell.

And he meant it, too. Wednesday he was back for the same offense. He drew a $20 fine this time.

Weather

Partly cloudy to cloudy and mild through Sunday with periods of showers and thunderstorms. High today 75 to 85. Low tonight 62 to 72.

AEA Gets Two Issues on Ballot

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Education Association qualified two proposals for a vote on the November general election ballot Wednesday by filing petitions with the secretary of state.

The proposals are:

A constitutional amendment which would require that the state teacher retirement system be kept financially sound — the "soundness" to be determined by a qualified actuary.

An act which would insure that the public school fund gets at least 50 per cent of the state's general revenues. The act would allow the legislature to raise the percentage if it desired.

The AEA petition had 83,836 signatures for the constitutional amendment. The requirement is 42,199.

The initiated act requirement is 33,759 signatures and the AEA submitted 88,009.

Man Drowned at Mammoth Springs

MAMMOTH SPRING, Ark. (AP) — Oren Major, 52, of Mammoth Spring, drowned Wednesday afternoon in the bayou of Spring River south of Mammoth Spring.

The body was recovered early today. Fulton County coroner Alvin Bryson of Mammoth Spring and deputy sheriff Troy Turner of Salem are conducting an inquest.

St. Francis Nat'l Forest Campsites

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — The first camp sites for the new St. Francis National Forest are being constructed now.

The 20,611-acre camp, which lies along Crowley's Ridge between Helena and Marianna, was declared a national forest about 18 months ago.

District Ranger William Jackson said nine units, at a cost of $300 or $400 each, would be constructed.

U.S. Figures Chinese May Attack Islands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House acknowledged concern today over a buildup of Chinese Communist forces on the mainland opposite the nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said that "the administration has been watching with concern the buildup of (Red) Chinese air and ground troops."

Other officials had said earlier that intelligence reports suggest the massing of troops is on the largest scale since the war in Korea.

Government sources described forces in the area as greater than the buildup at the time of the 1958 crisis when Communist artillery bombarded Quemoy and Matsu day after day.

While it is possible that the Chinese Reds are reassembling forces for defensive purposes, these sources said, the size and character of the movement also indicates they could be used for offensive purposes.

President Kennedy, it was learned, has not expressed personal opinion on the question of defense of the offshore islands, a subject of debate between him and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 campaign. There was no immediate indication as to whether the United States was considering any moves as a result of the buildup.

In the campaign debate, Kennedy questioned whether U. S. troops should be risked in defense of the islands although Nationalist China is a U. S. ally. Nixon said they should be defended.

Intelligence reports tell of a big movement of Communist ground forces into the coastal area of Fukien province.

The buildup, U.S. officials said yesterday, has been going on for months but was accelerated in recent weeks.

There has been speculation on two possible reasons for the troop buildup:

— That the communist government may wish to divert the attention of its people from serious economic problems at home.

— That Peking may be concerned that Nationalist President Chiang Kai-Shek might take advantage of the mainland's food shortages to launch an attack from Formosa.

Presbyterians Pick Moderator

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Cumberland Presbyterian Church named Eugene L. Warren, 51, of Memphis, moderator Wednesday.

Warren has served as executive secretary of the denomination's Board of Finance since 1951. He will continue in that capacity.

A native of Cord, Ark., he succeeds Ollie McClung of Birmingham, Ala. Warren holds the B.S. and M.S. degree from the University of Arkansas.

Rev. Jose Fajardo of Kali, Colombia, South America opened the church's missionary convention Wednesday night with a keynote address.

General business sessions are scheduled today.

The church claims a membership of about 88,000 in 984 churches.

Rusk Sees Berlin Wall, Assures It Will Come Down

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk got his first look at the Red wall splitting Berlin today and called it "an affront to human dignity."

"It will be broken down one day," he had declared earlier.

After touring the wall, Rusk said he is ready to continue talking with the Soviet Union in an effort to find a basis for negotiating Berlin's future.

He was speaking at a ceremony in West Berlin's City Hall, where he signed the golden visitors' book during a 2 1/2-hour visit to the threatened city, more than 100 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

"I continue to be ready to explore further with the Soviet Union whether a basis for negotiation exists," he said. "To do less would be a dereliction of my duty to the American people and to the people of West Berlin."

At his first stop—Potsdamerplatz—on a 40-minute tour of West Berlin immediately after flying in from Paris, he declared himself deeply impressed and added "we will find a way to break it down."

After seeing the walled-in Brandenburg Gate, the city's symbol, he said: "It is a very impressive scene—something the long story of human history must bring to right."

The gate is now cut off from the West by a massive anti-tank wall. During the night, shots were heard on the East Berlin side, indicating that East German police were firing on people trying to escape to the West.

Rusk mounted a British army observation tower to look over wall and down Unter den Linden, once Berlin's smartest street.

An estimated 30,000 persons stood along Rusk's 10-mile winding route from the airport.

The secretary of state flew to Berlin for a 2 1/2-hour stop from Paris on his round of European visits.

At a welcoming ceremony at the airport he conveyed personal greetings from President Kennedy to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, and concluded with a sentence in German:

"I feel Berlin is worth my journey"—an adaptation of the city's slogan, "Berlin Is Worth a Journey."

Brandt said "We welcome you as a good friend of this city and during your visit you will feel you can have faith in us. We are grateful to our American friends that we can live in freedom in our city today."

Rusk left Paris after talks with French President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials which reportedly convinced him that De Gaulle will put France's future nuclear striking force at the disposal of the Western alliance's defense plans.

From Berlin, Rusk will fly to Bonn for talks with West German leaders. A government spokesman said that in preparatory talks Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet had attained complete unity on all questions relating to the political unification of Europe.

Rusk's visit to Berlin comes at a time when tensions are high as a result of incidents along the wall. Hardly a night has gone by

Settlement of Air Strike Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Settlement of the engineers' strike threat against Trans World Airlines was announced today by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg after an all-night bargaining session in his office.

The settlement, a victory for President Kennedy who had termed the threatened shutdown a menace to the national economy, provides for orderly reduction of jet plane crews from four men to three.

That had been the crux of the dispute, with the engineers insisting on terms which would maintain their cockpit job rights.

The TWA agreement is expected to lift the threat of grounding the planes of two other major airlines, Pan American World Airways and Eastern Airlines, which face the same problem of reducing crew numbers.

Goldberg told reporters the pact protects the jobs of the 600 TWA members of the Flight Engineers International Association and assures the continued identity of their union.

Signs that an agreement was near appeared early in the day. A strike, poised for more than a week, was held off only momentarily as the negotiators went over terms of a settlement.

proposal offered Tuesday—just as the 2 p. m. strike deadline arrived—by Goldberg.

"The government hoped the proposal—a carefully worked-out plan aimed at solving the long and tangled airlines labor wrangle—would also extend to two other airlines involved in the dispute, Pan American World and Eastern Airlines.

But a split within the 3,000-member AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Association threatened to throw a monkey wrench into these plans.

The union suddenly withdrew its offer to arbitrate outstanding economic issues with Pan Am and Eastern.

While economic conditions are a part of the dispute, the key issue involves reduction of jet cockpit crews from four men to three. Both the engineers' union and the Airline Pilots Association have claimed jurisdiction over the third-man's job in the reconstituted crews.

Saves Boy Two, From Drowning

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — Billy
Curtis, 18, of Haynes, saved a 2-year-old boy from drowning in Cow Bayou, about 10 miles east of Marianna Wednesday.

Curtis and a companion, Herbert Williams of Marianna, stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrews to ask directions, and Mr. Andrews told them his son, Mark, was missing.
He asked them to join a search party, and they did.

About 200 yards from the Andrews home, Curtis said he heard a noise and saw a shadow 25 feet out in the bayou. He plunged in and retrieved young Mark from beneath the water.

Curtis said the boy showed no pulse and was blue. Curtis revived him, and then rushed Mark to a doctor in Marianna who said he seemed to be all right.

Faubus Draws Fire From Two Fronts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval E. Faubus drew fire from two political opponents actively campaigning for his office
Wednesday.

Rep. Dale Alford, speaking at Star City, said he broke with Faubus early in 1961 when it became obvious the governor had left the people.

Kenneth Coffelt, on a slump tour of southern Arkansas, charged that Faubus was backing a slate of candidates for state offices.

Meanwhile, in Little Rock, Faubus indicated that he was not overly concerned about an AFL-CIO committee resolution opposing his reelection. The labor group's Committee of Political Education (COPE) reiterated last Saturday its 1958 opposition to Faubus.

Faubus remarked Wednesday that it was in 1958 he obtained his largest vote.

Alford told his audience, "I originally supported Faubus in his previous campaigns, when in my judgment he was representing the people. But when it became obvious that he left you, the people, and became the tool of bond dealers, wholesale whisky dealers, gamblers, the large utility companies and corporation lawyers of Little Rock, I could no longer agree with his political philosophy."

He also charged that while the governor was making a "dramatic television appearance" to say he would not seek a fifth term, "the governor-makers... were preparing his platform and announcement for his fifth term candidacy."

Coffelt said Faubus has "led more than one candidate to believe he is backing them, but the truth is, he is behind only one."
Coffelt said he would spell out details of the charge later in the campaign.

Alford and Faubus will appear on the same platform this weekend, both addressing about 700 members and auxiliary members of the state Department of Veterans of Foreign Wars at Hot Springs.

In other political activity
Wednesday, Republicans found themselves without need of a July primary when Harold Sadler of Little Rock withdrew as a GOP candidate for governor.

Sadler's withdrawal leaves Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville opposed on the ticket.

Sadler said he had determined by a survey that 90 per cent of the Republicans would vote as independents in the Democratic primary. He charged that the party had not done enough work in setting up county primaries.

Faubus announced that he will formally open his campaign at an outdoor rally June 28 in El Dorado.

Vernon Whitten, speaking at Lewisville, said if elected he would revise the system of issuing state automobile license tags.

Former governor Sid McMath

Dorado.

David A. Cox of Weiner has not released an itinerary.

Four of the candidates are

Rock.

Coleman Fires 39 in Junior State Meet

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Little Rock golfer Randy Coleman fired a 39-hole 149 Wednesday to defeat defending champion Mike McCutcheon, also of Little Rock, in the state junior boys tournament by one point.

Ricky Freeman of Little Rock was third in the tournament with a 151.

Jim Balch, another Little Rock junior golfer, placed fourth with a 152. Balch carded an 18-hole 73 Wednesday to lead the first round.

Eleven golfers have qualified for the Arkansas Amateur Tournament, which begins Friday.

Coleman, 17, is expected to play in that event.

Over 150 golfers are expected to qualify for the tourney by the 2 p. m. deadline Thursday.

The Pine Bluff country club course has been crowded with golfers getting in practice rounds. The top 32 qualifiers in the event will go into the championship flight Friday.

Sam Spikes, defending champion, shot a 71 in practice rounds. Richard McCauley, winner of the tournament held during the Warren Pink Tomato Festival last weekend, carded a three-under par 68.

Mickey Mantle to Return to Lineup

BALTIMORE, (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees ailing super-star, will return to the lineup Friday night against the Detroit Tigers.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said he will try Mantle in right field, instead of his usual center field spot, "because in Detroit, it's the smallest area an outfielder has to cover."

Mantle has been out of action since May 18 when he tore a muscle in his right thigh and landed heavily on his left knee while running out a ground ball. The thigh muscles have healed, but impaired ligaments back of the left knee are still troubling him.

In the 29 games the Yankees have played since he was injured, New York has won 14, and slipped from first to fourth place.

Not Likely to Delay This Matter Long

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Congress technically will face spectre of payless paydays for members of Congress and their employees may bring an early end to a Senate-House deadlock holding up appropriation bills.

In the backlog of bills jammed up by what has been called a "childish" and "foolish" technical controversy is one carrying money to operate Congress for the government year starting July 1.

Of lesser immediate importance on Capitol Hill are other bills financing the Treasury, Interior, Postoffice, Defense, Labor and Welfare departments and the President's own office for the same period.

Unless a face-saving compromise is worked out soon between the Senate and House Appropriations committees, just about every employee of the government and Congress technically will face payless paydays starting July 1.

Traditionally, senators have presided at joint meetings to compromise money bills on which the two branches differed. Traditionally, all appropriations bills have originated in the House.

The House group wants to change the rules and rotate the chairmanship at joint sessions. The Senate group said this would be okay if the House agreed to let the Senate institute every other appropriation bill.

Neither side appears willing to give in.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., called the "foolish" and predicted it would end soon. Meanwhile, Secret Service employees are off the payroll and are working on the theory that they eventually will get paid.

Their pay funds expired recently, as did those of some other agencies.

With none of the big annual money bills cleared, the usual procedure would be for Congress to swish through an emergency measure financing all departments on a temporary basis. But there's no assurance the Senate committee would consider such a measure, although it always has in the past when there was no intercommittee feuding.

Current prospects are that some legislative heads will be bumped together soon and the stalemate will end with a guarantee that in the new Congress the entire subject of rotation of joint committee chairmanships will be considered. All other major joint committees rotate their chairmanships every two years between the Senate and the House.

Cubans Riot in New York Over Castro

NEW YORK (AP) — Several hundred Cubans, for and against Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, battled sporadically for three hours outside a meeting hall on Wednesday night. Two Molotov cocktails were tossed but did no damage.

Newsman Says Temple Hit Harder

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati baseball writer Earl Lawson says Johnny Temple throws a harder punch than Vada Pinson. He should know.

Pinson, angered by a Lawson story criticizing his fielding, landed a right to Lawson's chin in the Cincinnati dressing room Wednesday night prior to the Pittsburgh game won by the Pirates 5-4.

Temple punched Lawson six years ago in a dispute.

"I criticized Pinson's fielding which hasn't been good this year," Lawson said.

Pinson, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound speed demon, told The Associated Press he was sorry about the whole thing.

"It was just something that happened on the spur of the moment," Pinson, 23, said. "I don't go around punching people."

He (Lawson) apologized during batting practice and so did I," Pinson added. "He said he was wrong."

Lawson said he holds no grudge against Pinson, but he added: "I'm a little tired of getting hit all the time by ballplayers."

Temple, former Red second baseman now with the Baltimore Orioles, socked Lawson over a dispute on a call the writer made as an official scorer. The two later became friends.

"Temple hit harder," Lawson grinned.

Made Rounds in Swimming Trunks

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Postman William Bucklin braved the rains Wednesday in completing his appointed rounds—but not until he finally resorted to swim trunks.

Bucklin, 20, started his day in full uniform. He got soaked in a matter of minutes, went home, and donned his only spare uniform.

The rains continued. He again went home and this time chose the trunks. The latter, he said, matched his postal hat pretty close.

Customer reaction to his third ensemble, he said, was mixed. Some liked it, some didn't and some called his boss to report that Bucklin was not only out of uniform but in hardly anything else.

Several men left the hall to rebuke the crowd for shouting "Down with Castro!"

REQUEST FOR BIDS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Hempstead County Building Committee appointed by the County Court to supervise the construction of certain buildings in connection with the Bond Issue authorized by Amendment No. 49 of the Constitution of Arkansas, and approved by the people of Hempstead County at an election on March 20, 1962, will receive separate bids on the carpenter labor and materials necessary to build twenty-four laying hen houses (12x610 ft.), until one o'clock p. m. on June 26, 1962. The plans and lists of materials, and specifications, for each classification, such as, electrical, plumbing, lumber, miscellaneous hardware, steel, etc., are available from E. D. Collins, c/o Corn Belt Hatches of Arkansas, Inc., Rocky Mount Road, Route 2, Box 17, Hope, Arkansas.

Escapes Handed Sentences

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Prison terms were given Wednesday to two youths who tore out bars and fled from a lockup room at the Pulaski County courthouse.

Eddie Massengale, 18, and Lloyd R. Worstell, 17, were sentenced to two years each after pleading guilty before Circuit Judge William J. Kirby. Escape charges were dismissed.

The attempt of the two to flee the lockup room was the second prison break effort at the jail within a week.

Last Thursday three teenagers, using a smuggled gun, shot an elderly jailer and held officers at bay for several hours before surrendering.

Diana Lee Lambert, 17, accused of firing the shot, was sentenced Tuesday to a year in prison on a grand larceny charge. The other two girls, two men accused of smuggling the gun and Miss Lambert still face charges of assault with intent to kill.

The attempt of Massengale and Worstell failed after they had made their way through a window to the court house roof and half-way around the building on a narrow ledge.

Circulation Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — The International Circulation Managers Association named Leon Reed, circulation director of the Arkansas Gazette, to its board Wednesday. Stowell Abbott of Statesman Newspapers, Boise, Idaho, was named president of the association.

IN THE CHANCERY COURT OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY, ARKANSAS

UNITED BILT HOMES, INCORPORATED, SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA PLAINTIFF VS. NO. 8519 LOUIS ELEY AND ANN ELEY DEFENDANTS

NOTICE OF SALE

Notice is hereby given that undersigned, commissioner of the chancery, will, pursuant to the order of the Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, rendered on the 12th day of June, 1962, in a cause therein pending wherein United Bilt Homes, Inc., Shreveport, Louisiana, is plaintiff and Louis Eley and Ann Eley are defendants, on the 20th day of July, 1962, offer for sale at public auction, at the East Door of the Courthouse in the City of Hope, Hempstead County, Arkansas, the highest and best bidder, the following lands and property: the County of Hempstead, State of Arkansas, to-wit:

A parcel of land in the Northeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter of Section 21, Township 11 south Range 25 west, more particularly described as follows: Commencing on the East line of said 40 acre where the North line of a 2 acre tract formerly sold by H. E. Butler to Will Tyus intersects the East line of said 40 acres, a run thence North 35 yards to stake which is the point of beginning; run thence North 35 yards thence West 70 yards, thence south 35 yards, thence East 35 yards back to the point of beginning, and containing one-half acre of land, more or less.

Said sale will be held between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and three o'clock in the afternoon of the date aforesaid upon the following terms: cash or on credit of not more than three months at eight per cent (8%) interest. The purchaser at said sale will be required to give bond with approved security, to secure the payment of the purchase price and a lien will be retained on said lands further to secure such purchase money.

WITNESS my hand this 12th day of June, 1962.

Says People Are Causing Deer Trouble

By Gus Albright
News Editor
Arkansas Game And Fish Commission

Yes, Arkansas has deer problems. And people problems. In fact, the people problems are causing most of the deer problems. So say the game biologists, timber producers and many farmers.

The game biologists contend that in many areas the deer are eating themselves out of a home. They advise that malnutrition and diseases are taking hold. They say we have too many does for the number of bucks. Their consensus: We are losing quality and wasting game.

Some of the major forestry interests say over populations of deer are beginning to cause serious damages to timber. They point out that deer seldom range far — that after a shortage of preferred foods, plus their needs for a variety, they browse heavily on young trees. Consensus: Game managers must alleviate the situation or the timber interests may be forced to.

Each spring more and more farmers complain that deer are damaging their crops. These complaints are mostly from the southeast part of the state and those farms bordering game refuges. They say the damages are getting worse each year. This is an indication of increasing deer herds lacking an adequate supply of wild foods.

Various attempts have been made to relieve the crop damage problem, some resulting in the wanton slaughter of deer. All attempts have failed. Consensus: An effective reduction of the herds through sound game management or the continuation and increase of a promiscuous waste. Question: What do we do now?

NCA Meet Is Termed Roughest

DURHAM, N. C., (AP) — Four years, some college coaches and amateur golf enthusiasts have maintained that the National Collegiate mens tournament is one of the most rugged tests in golf. The 65th edition of the championship, now in its second round at Duke University, underscores this opinion.

Three days ago the coaches announced with pride their three-team All-America choices. All 18 were entered in the tournament. But only nine were around today as the rain interrupted second round resumed.

Three failed to qualify after 36 holes of medal play scrambling for 64 match play positions; one lost out in the playoff and five more were eased out in the first round.

Rain cut play short with five of the 16 second round matches in progress on the par 71 course, measuring 6,828 yards. Play will be resumed at the point of suspension, and the third round will be played this afternoon.

Medalist Kermit Zarley of Houston, whose 140 led the 36-hole medal play, was the only one of the top five scorers to survive the opening rounds.

He won the last two holes to edge Army's S. B. Pembroke, 2 and 1, then took out to play Ed Moehling Jr., two-tee Illinois State champion from Northern Illinois. Zarley led 1 up when they were halted by rain after nine holes.

Big names dropped by the way-side included two 1961 quarter-finalists, Charles Layton of Georgia and Pte Byers of Marshall, and John Lotz of San Jose State.

Royal Rick May Have Hard Time

YONKERS, N.Y., (AP) — Royal Rick, winner of the $50,000 International Pace a week ago, will have a difficult time tonight when he starts from the second tier No. 12 post position against 11 others in the $65,000 Good Time Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

This is the middle event in the $150,000 Yonkers triple series, and is over the 1 1/4 mile route. The $75,000 National Championship Pace will be held next Thursday at two miles.

Henry T. Adios, winner of the IFTA mile pace last Friday at Buffalo Raceway in 1:59 4-5, is the 3-1 favorite for the Good Time. Henry T. will be driven by Stanley Dancer from Post 10, Royal Rick, driven by George Sholtz, is 4-1.

Indians Win Doubleheader, Boost Lead

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Either American League pitchers are suffering a collective streak of poor marksmanship or they're feeling uncommonly vindictive toward their natural enemies—the hitters.

Wednesday night Boston's Mike Pomeroy matched a modern major league single game record by plunking four Cleveland batters in the Indians' doubleheader sweep over the Red Sox. And at Kansas City, Jerry Walker of the Athletics nicked Leon Wagner of Los Angeles. Wagner threw his bat at Walker. Walker threw the bat at Wagner again, and both were ejected after a medium sized free-for-all.

By beating Boston twice, 6-3 and 3-0, the Indians boosted their league lead to two full games over Minnesota, a 5-1 loser to Chicago. Los Angeles whipped the A's for the seventh straight time, 5-1, and Washington ripped Detroit 5-4. New York and the Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

In the National League, St. Louis edged front-running Los Angeles 5-4 in 11 innings. Houston trimmed San Francisco 9-5. Pittsburgh shaded Cincinnati 5-4 and Milwaukee took two from New York, 9-4 and 3-2. The Chicago Cubs-Phillies game at Philadelphia was knocked out by rain.

Barry Latham (4-4) fired a five-hit shutout in the second game and Bubba Phillips clinched the opener with a three-run homer in the Indians' double victory over the Red Sox. Phillips' homer off Gene Conley came in the sixth inning and brought Cleveland from behind. Jim Perry was the winning pitcher with help from Gary Bell.

The Angels started off with Bob Rodgers' two-run homer in the second. Wagner whacked No. 20 in the fourth. When Wagner came up in the sixth, Walker plunked him and a typical baseball battle ensued—much milling and swinging, little hitting and hurting.

After peace was restored, Danny McDevitt became the Kansas City pitcher and was touched for Los Angeles' last two runs in the seventh. Ted Bowsfield won in getting a big assist from Bob Botz over the final three innings.

Misdirected pitches also helped the White Sox over the Twins. Chicago got a run in the second against Joe Bonkowski on a walk to Al Smith, an error and a wild pitch then wrapped it up with three in the third off reliever Ted Sadowski. Ray Herbert gave up 10 Minnesota hits, but went all the way.

The last-place Senators rallied for three runs in the seventh inning and got some nifty relief pitching from Pete Burnside in beating the Tigers.

Hungry Golfers in Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP) — While the fat cats loaf, the hungry breed of golfers will be licking their chops over $35,000 at stake in the 13th Eastern Open, which starts today.

A first prize of $5,300 awaits the winner Sunday at the end of 72 scheduled holes with such money winners as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Gene Littler shunning the dough in favor of rest.

The pro-game was cancelled Wednesday because of a steady rain, so play advances to the first round today, with the field of 115 led by Phil Rodgers and Bob Nichols.

Arkansas Leads

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas continued to lead the southwestern states in placement of workers in non-agricultural jobs in May, the Employment Security Division said Wednesday. The ESD said the state has led the area for the past 11 months. The placement of 12,192 persons in non-agricultural positions during May was up 47.8 per cent from the same month last year. Hank Aaron doesn't look like a slugger until he starts hitting. But in the last five years the Milwaukee outfielder has had more home runs than anyone else in the National League.

In the past three days he's played four games against the New York Mets, had nine hits in 16 times at bat, including a double and three home runs, and driven in 11 runs.

The performance boosted his season totals to a .335 average—which is tied for the lead—16 home runs and 58 runs batted in.

His big day was Wednesday with five hits, including two home runs, and six runs batted in as the Braves swept a pair, 9-4 and 3-2. The nightcap was called at the end of six innings because of rain.

Leading Los Angeles dropped a 5-4, 11 inning affair to the Cardinals, but retained their 2 1/2 game lead when Houston clipped second-place San Francisco 9-5. Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the only other game. Chicago at Philadelphia was postponed by rain.

In the American League, Cleveland expanded its lead to two games by sweeping a doubleheader from Boston 6-3 and 3-0 while the Chicago White Sox beat second-place Minnesota 5-1. The Los Angeles Angels stopped Kansas City 5-1 and Washington edged Detroit 5-4. New York at Baltimore was postponed by rain.

Bill White drove in the 11th inning tie-breaker for St. Louis with a single. His drive through the box off loser Ron Perranoski followed singles by Ken Boyer and Jim Schaffer. Bobby Shantz, who took over in the eighth, got the victory.

Norm Larker's grand slam homer and a pinch double by Pidge Browne that broke a 5-5 tie were the key blows in Houston's conquest of San Francisco. Roman Mejias also got a homer for the Colts.

Pittsburgh's victory, forged on a rally-killing ninth-inning relief performance by Elroy Face, boosted the Pirates into sole control of third place.

Aaron's two homers were the only Brave hits in their abbreviated second game with the Mets, and drove in all three runs. The Mets rallied for two in the sixth and last inning, but Lew Burdette came in to chop it off.

In the opener, Aaron had three singles and drove in three runs. Gus Bell had a three-run homer and Joe Adcock a one-run blast to pace the 15-hit attack off five Met pitchers.

Sadler Out, No Primary for GOPs

By BILL SIMMONS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William Harold Sadler withdrew today as a Republican candidate for governor, removing the necessity for a GOP primary July 31.

Sadler's withdrawal leaves Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville unopposed for the Republican nomination.

He was the second gubernatorial candidate to leave the field since the ticket closed May 2. The Democratic field lost Marvin Melton of Jonesboro May 25.

Melton has not, however, asked that his name be removed from the ballot. He must do this or his withdrawal is not official. So must Sadler.

Sadler said he has not yet contacted GOP officials about his withdrawal.

Sadler said in a prepared statement, issued at a news conference, that he was leaving the race because a Republican primary at this time would be "void of viewpoint and significance."

He said he had determined through a survey that 90 percent of the Republican voters will vote as independents in the Democratic primary as they have in past years.

Sadler said he filed because he was interested in developing a two-party system in Arkansas.

"It will be impossible this year, and perhaps for a long time in the future," Sadler said, "for the electorate to regain or exercise freedom through the Democratic

Promises to End License Red Tape

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Ver-non Whitten of Mount Holly promised today to eliminate the red tape connected with automobile license purchasing if he is elected governor.

"I've heard hundreds of complaints about the present system," Whitten told an audience in Lewisville. "Each year we fight the line and the built-in vexations of the present system simply trying to do our duty as taxpayers and automobile owners."

Arkansas sells all its auto plates in January.

Whitten said some states handle license sales by mail and others let drivers buy them in the month they are born. "This relieves congestion at the sales windows and removes the necessity for extra help, paid for with tax money, of course," he said.

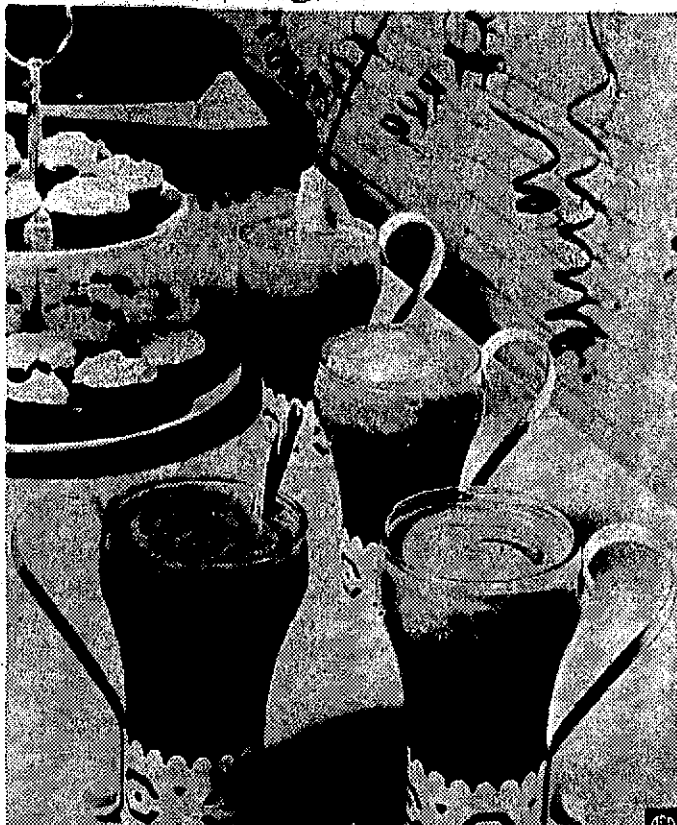

Whitten also campaigned today in El Dorado. He was scheduled to speak at a political rally at Humphrey tonight.

primary, or so long as the mechanics are dominated by those who desire to use politics for purposes other than the public good.

"I had hoped, when I qualified as a candidate," he said, "that the Republican party would have the manpower and means to conduct a representative primary."

"From every conceivable angle it becomes a devastating illusion to harbor the thought that the Republican Party can hold a creditable state-wide primary at this time," he said. "A nominee in such an election could only labor under a mirage of false beliefs and meaningless nomination."

Teeners Toot Enthusiastic Note For Nourishing Chocolate Drinks

Teen-agers have some tastes of which a parent can wholeheartedly approve! Among these is their taste for milk drinks, the chocolate milkshake, for instance.

Produce a variety of delicious chocolate milkshakes almost instantly, starting with quick chocolate-flavored mix. In addition to its excellent chocolate flavor, it contains valuable vitamins and iron.

Dreamy Chocolate Milk Shake

1/2 cup quick chocolate-flavored mix 1 quart (4 cups) milk

Combine quick chocolate-flavored mix and milk in a 1 1/4 quart refrigerator container. Stir to blend. Cover and chill. Shake well before serving. If desired, garnish with a dollop of marshmallow cream. Yield: 4 servings.

Choco-Peanut Milk Shake: Blend together 2 tablespoons cream-style peanut butter and 1/4 cup of the milk. Place in container. Add remaining milk and quick chocolate-flavored mix. Stir to blend.

Minty Way Milk Shake: Add 1/4 teaspoon peppermint flavoring to chocolate milk mixture in container. If desired, stir each serving with a peppermint stick.

STREET SCENE By STEVE APRIL

It was a cold Friday evening and people streamed up the subway stairs, glad the week's work was over. The younger ones were thinking of the Saturday night ahead and others rushing for the warmth of their rooms, impatient to relax.

He stood in the doorway of a closed store, a tall, slim, young man, clothes flashy and cheap. His lean face was on the hard, handsome side, but mainly it was a sharp and cruel face, the cunning eyes bright.

She looked exactly like what

The young man walked over to the girl, grabbed her shoulder.

she was — a plump little office clerk of about 22. Her average face was slightly pretty only because it still held youth. Her dress and fur-trimmed coat were neat and moderate in both style and cost. She held her pocketbook in one hand, a folded paper in the other.

Pulling his hat down a bit, the young man quickly walked over to the girl, grabbed her shoulder, said loudly, "What's the idea of keeping me waiting? Told you I'm not taking anymore of this high and mighty lady stuff! You can't play me for a sucker."

"What?" the girl asked, pulling away, her round face more puzzled than frightened.

At the sound of his loud words most of the people around them slowed down, or stopped, amused grins on their faces. Some of the women shook their heads in mild disapproval, while a few of the men in the crowd winked knowingly at each other.

"What? What?" the young man said quickly, mocking her. "Don't give me that innocent stuff. You and your mother, think they can pull the wool over my eyes. I know all about you two-timing me, playing me for a fool! He grabbed the girl's shoulders. 'Come home with me.'"

"You crazy? Keep your hands off me!" she said, hysteria mounting the words. She looked around wildly at the crowd. "I don't!"

"About time you learn you're my wife," he said, trying to drag her with him.

For a second they wrestled and she started to cry. "Help! Please!"

Then he suddenly pinched her on the chin. She sat on the sidewalk hard, her plump legs spread out at an odd angle, eyes groggy, hat off at comical slant. Her purse fell at her side.

Picking it up he said coldly, "I'll be waiting at home for you." He pushed his way — easily — through the small crowd, ducked around a corner.

The girl moaned through her bloody lips, and began to weep. As the girl was straightening her clothing, a police officer pushed his way through the crowd. The girl said, "He took my purse—with my salary in it! My, my, all my money, over $60, and my keys and . . . Oh, so many papers and things, I need!"

"What's his name?" the cop asked. He was a stocky man with a weathered-red face.

"How do I know? Can't anybody believe that I never saw him before!" the girl said.

"Was he a tall, slim, guy—a pretty boy?" the cop asked.

"Yes, that's him," the old lady in the crowd muttered.

Taking out his notebook the cop said, "No mistake. He's a smart creep. This is the third job he's pulled like this around here. Starts loud — talking a strange woman, smacks her, takes her bag. What's your name, young lady?"

Before she could answer, the old lady asked, "But with so many people around?"

The patrolman shrugged his thick shoulders. "Just what he's counting on — that you'll stand around, do nothing."

There was a moment of silence. Most of the men either looked away, or walked on. Then one beefy fellow, a self-appointed spokesman for the others, explained. "Robbed? Why officer we merely thought it was some guy just beating up his wife!"

With a weary sigh the cop said, "Okay, heroes, move on. Young lady, give me your name and . . ."

As if suddenly realizing what he'd said, the beefy man, and the crowd, headed for their homes, silently glad to leave.

Against Way State Funds Distributed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. H. (Johnny) Mitchum of Batesville, a candidate for state treasurer, said Tuesday bankers are unhappy with the way state funds are distributed for depositing in banks around the state.

Mitchum said he would offer the legislature a new formula for distribution of funds. He said the formula would be decided after conferences with bankers, businessmen, farmers and members of various professions.

Former Gov. Sid McMath, had charged that the Faubus administration has deposited state money in banks controlled by W. R. Stephens, chairman of the board of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. McMath contends that Stephens is the power behind the governor's chair.

There was considerable discussion at the recent Arkansas Bankers Association convention about a complete overhaul of the deposit system, Mitchum said.

Mrs. Nancy J. Hall, the only other candidate for state treasurer, said she had no comment to make because she isn't treasurer.

Youthful Girls Used as Prostitutes

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating vice behind the footlights were expected to hear testimony today that teen-age girls were used as prostitutes in honky-tonk night clubs in Florida.

Among the scheduled witnesses were Daniel Sullivan, director of the Miami Crime Commission; officials of the Florida State Liquor Licensing Board, and spokesmen for the American Guild of Variety Artists, AFL-CIO.

Jerome Adlerman, counsel for the Senate investigations subcommittee, said there would also be some other witnesses from Miami and Tampa but declined to identify them in advance.

For more than a week the subcommittee has heard witnesses from the G-string circuit—dancers, singers, cafe owners and reputed mobsters—as well as from police officials in its probe of alleged connivance between underworld figures and some officials of the entertainers' union, AGVA.

Testimony that teen-age girls as young as 15 were recruited in the United States, Canada and Cuba under promises of night club stardom but forced into a life of vice stirred senatorial wrath at Tuesday's hearings.

Witnesses had traced the girls to clubs in the Chicago area, Hurley, Wis., and the notorious section known as "The Block" in Baltimore, Md.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., subcommittee chairman, said AGVA should be kicked out of the "house of decent unionism."

He said union officials had "willfully, deliberately, premeditatedly" failed to enforce contracts designed to protect entertainers from exploitation.

The subcommittee has heard stories of threats and actual beatings to keep girls from running away.

"A union that would go along—a union that would tolerate this becomes a party to it, and in my judgment can have no proper place in the house of decent unionism," McClellan declared.

Minutes later Jerry Green, AGVA's Baltimore branch manager, acknowledged under oath he never had enforced the provisions of the union's contract forbidding club owners to require entertainers to mix with male patrons.

Nor, Green added, was he ever told to enforce the provisions by the union's president, comedian Joey Adams; or its operating head, the administrative secretary, Jackie Bright.

There is a shrine on the grounds of the Catholic church at Fort Smith which was the chimney of the home of General Zachary Taylor, later president of the United States.

Counterfeit Money Order Ring Broken

NEW YORK (AP)—Secret Service agents and police have struck here and in two other American cities in a swift attempt to crush a U.S.-Canadian ring specializing in counterfeit money orders.

Three Canadians and a Vermont man were arrested here Tuesday with what a Secret Service spokesman said was $17,500 in counterfeit Canadian Pacific Railway money orders.

The spokesman said $10,100 more in counterfeit drafts was taken from three Toronto men arrested by Secret Service agents and police in Detroit.

In Buffalo, N.Y., city police announced they were holding four Canadians who they said nearly $9,000 in counterfeit money orders. Tips from Toronto police resulted in the New York and Detroit arrests. The Secret Service spokesman said the organization is working closely with Canadian authorities to determine whether other members of the ring still are operating here or in Canada.

The men arrested in New York City were identified as Edward P. Callahan, 37, of Albany, N.Y.; and Gary Bell, 28, Barry G. Kirk, 38, and Shaun Bernard, 28, all of Montreal.

They were arraigned and held in $15,000 bail each for a hearing Friday on charges of passing counterfeit obligations of a foreign corporation.

The three Toronto men arrested in Detroit were identified as Bruce W. Walker, 21; David C. Ford, 28, and Gordon D. Atamancheck, 21. They were held on charges filed by local police.

The men arrested in Buffalo were identified as Pasquale Di-nunzio, 28; Marcel Conito, 32, and Joseph L. Levesque, 32, all of Montreal; and Raymond Charon, 37, of Port Arthur, Ont.

They were being held without charge, Buffalo police said, but a technical detainer charge had been filed by the U.S. Border Patrol.

Collision Kills U.S. Flying Hero

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—An American flying hero and three West German air force pilots were killed Tuesday in the collision of four supersonic jet fighters.

The four planes, U.S.-built F104 Starfighters, were flying a tight, low-level formation in rehearsal for an air show when they collided and crashed about 10 miles southwest of Cologne.

An eyewitness said the planes were flying in box formation. The top pair collided and dropped onto the lower two. They were too low for the pilots to bail out.

The American victim was Capt. Jon G. Speer, 29, of Los Angeles, one of a group of U.S. Air Force instructors with the West German air force.

Speer was about to be awarded the Air Medal for landing another F104 safely two months ago after a lightning bolt had smashed the plane's nose and knocked out 50 per cent of its controls.

He had been cited for extraordinary flying skill displayed in one of the most unusual incidents in American aviation history.

The four-plane crash caused cancellation of the air show.

Diefenbaker Calls in Cabinet

By MAX HARRELSON
TORONTO (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker summoned his Conservative Cabinet to a post-election meeting today to map plans for ruling the country without a majority in Parliament.

The 67-year-old conservative leader flew back to Ottawa Tuesday night from his Saskatchewan home, where he received the news of Monday's national election. He indicated at the time that he intended to carry on with a minority government.

The election gave the Conservatives only 118 of the 265 House of Commons seats, 15 short of a majority.

Among the problems facing him is to try to get an understanding with one or both of the minor parties—the Social Credit and New Democratic parties—as to what extent they will cooperate. They hold the balance of power.

If they should refuse the government would be forced out by a vote of no confidence on the first major legislation to come up in Parliament. However, both parties have indicated they will cooperate on essential "housekeeping" legislation, at least until a new election can be held.

Hospital Contract
MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP)—H. C. Enterprises, Inc., of Little Rock was awarded a $51,000 contract Tuesday to build a 39-bed hospital for Baxter County. Work will begin July 9.

Boards Have Authority
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Attorney General's office ruled Tuesday that local school boards have sole responsibility for determining length of a school district's term.

Phillip Shoemaker, superintendent of Hoxie Consolidated schools, requested the opinion. Shoemaker said the school board is considering changing the term at Hoxie from split term to a straight nine-month term.

The opinion said the school board's opinion is final.

Sandwiches Salads Now Popular

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sandwiches and salads come to the rescue of housewives hurried by summer heat and taxed by school youngsters home and underfoot.

Many of the nation's supermarkets are featuring picnic hams this weekend. One national chain features an 8-pound ham for $2.99 in New York.

Bacon is another special, which teams up with plentiful supplies of lettuce and tomatoes for sandwiches.

Cold cuts are widely featured and so are dairy snacks of cheese and cottage cheese.

Continued low prices for eggs make egg salad sandwiches and deviled eggs economical eating.

Broiler-fryers offer an opportunity for the backyard chef to show his stuff. One national chain is selling whole birds for 27 cents a pound in New York area outlets.

Other cookout bargains include frankfurters and ground beef. Steaks, both beef and pork, are featured regionally and spareribs and shortribs are bargain priced in some stores.

Among salad ingredients, lettuce is lower priced almost everywhere. Other greens, cucumbers, green onions and cabbage also

Beck Starts on Road to Prison
SEATTLE (AP)—Millionaire Dave Beck, 64-year-old ex-boss of the Teamsters Union, began the road to prison today.

The Beck party added for Tacoma, 30 miles away, with U.S. Marshal Donald F. Miller and Beck's lawyer, Charles S. Burdell, following in a car behind.

Beck will serve a five-year term at McNeil Island penitentiary, near Tacoma, for filing two fraudulent union income tax returns.

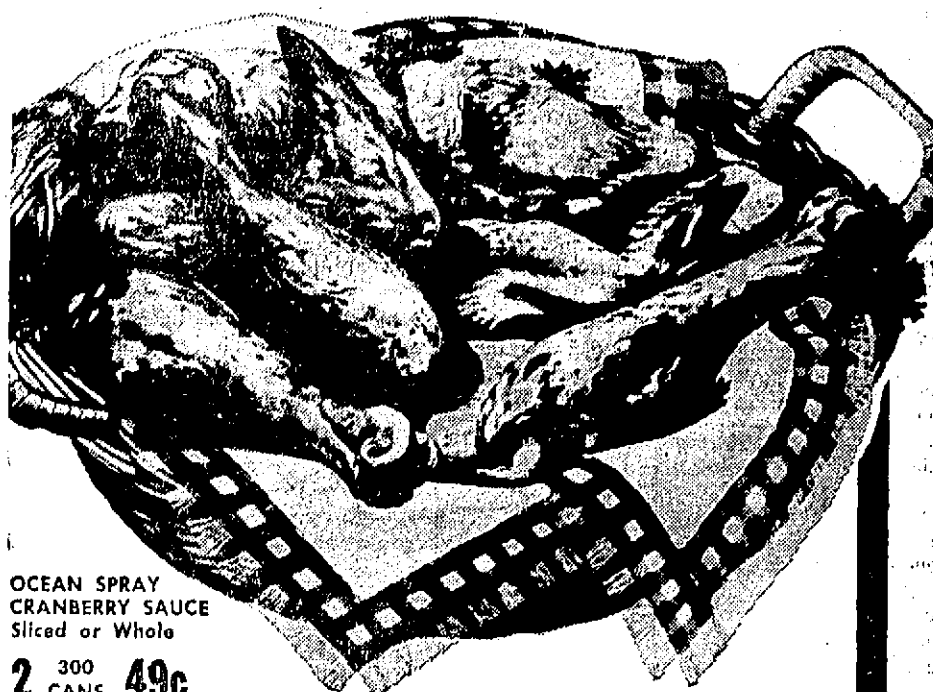

Beck rode in the back of a limousine driven by a Teamsters Union official. He carried a state-issued permit to issue the guilty plea after the charge before he goes to prison.

Pleads Guilty to Fatal Stabbing
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—James Blue, 26, a Baton Rouge, La., Negro pleaded guilty today to manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of Roosevelt White, 31, also a Negro, in a tavern fight March 16.

Judge William J. Kirby sentenced Blue to two years in prison.

Blue had been charged with second-degree murder. He entered the guilty plea after the charge was reduced to manslaughter.

Condition of U.S. Figured Many Ways

articles on the debate over the federal budget.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam has his fingers in so many things today that when he closes his books on this fiscal year June 30 it will be hard to say how much he is behind. One way of figuring will put him around $7 billion in the red, another at least $8.5 billion behind, and still a third will show him fairly close to breaking even.

And to add to the confusion the federal debt—which includes everything from your U.S. Savings Bonds to the Treasury's short-term IOUs at the banks—will be close to $300 billion, up almost $10 billion on the year.

There are three ways of fashioning a federal budget as variously used by Congress, the Budget Bureau, or the U.S. Treasury and some government and private economists. Each served a different purpose in showing the government's impact on financial or economic affairs.

A big storm, however, is blowing up as to which of the three should be used—the official or administrative budget, the cash budget or the national income accounts budget. Often when one shows a deficit, another shows a surplus. This is handy in political debate. But also sheds light on what is happening to the economy. This, greatly simplified, is how the three budgets work:

The administrative budget, set up by Congress in 1921, is the one you hear about, the one the Congress debates. It is proposed by a president in January and lists as expenditures sums for national defense, space research, foreign aid, agriculture, housing, commerce and transportation, health and welfare, education, veterans benefits, and interest—more than $9 billion a year in interest on the national debt.

The administrative budget also estimates receipts of individual income taxes, corporate income taxes, excise, estate and gift taxes, and customs revenue.

But the U.S. Treasury receives and pays out money for other purposes—Social Security, veterans insurance, unemployment benefits, highway and other rural funds. So it has a cash budget.

This shows what the Treasury actually receives from the public and pays out to the public.

But of late many economists hold that even the cash budget gives less than an accurate picture. So this year, for the first time, President Kennedy offered Congress still a third summary of federal finances—the national income accounts.

This was devised by the Department of Commerce. It shows not what the Treasury has collected, but what has been put aside for tax payments. For example, what a corporation builds up to meet future tax bills—funds it can't spend in the business or commit for expansion.

Budget Director David E. Bell says that this fiscal year corporate tax accruals will run $3 billion higher than corporate tax receipts.

National income accounts also exclude government loans from the spending side of the ledger, holding these will be paid back and aren't like salaries—money paid out and gone forever.

These are the various types of budgets the President proposes as subjects for a serious dialogue—and the debate could be loud and long.

Thuray: Will Treasury deficits weaken our dollar or will they get the economy rolling?

Tiros Could Bring Space Cooperation

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—America's newest weather satellite, Tiros V, orbiting on its hurricane and storm hunting mission, may prove to be the first step toward a cooperative space program between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The weather watch satellite, launched Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, will photograph cloud cover over a much greater area of the world than any of the previous four Tiros satellites. Included is the sky above most of the Soviet Union.

During its anticipated four-month useful lifetime, Tiros V's two wide-angle cameras are expected to snap hundreds of pictures of weather systems over the U.S.S.R. A National Aeronautics and Space Administration official said the photographs will be available to Soviet meteorologists if they want them.

Presumably the Russians will ask for the pictures. Earlier this month, American and Soviet scientists signed a pact in Geneva agreeing to share data received from their respective weather satellites—with a long-range look at possibly building a board mutual space research program.

The representatives of the two major space powers also discussed the possibility of coordinating talking, launch dates and satellite objectives to reduce exploration overlaps. There was no provision for a common launching.

As yet, the Soviet Union has not launched a weather satellite. It reportedly is developing one, but it is not known whether it is similar to the Tiros system.

The pact was the first concrete result of an exchange of letters earlier this year between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Kennedy proposed five areas of space research and Khrushchev six in which the nations might cooperate.

The non-controversial meteorological satellite was selected as the first area of discussion, with communications satellites expected next. Further discussions between the scientists of the two nations are scheduled soon in Moscow.

Tiros V is whizzing about the earth every 100.5 minutes at peak speed of 17,140 miles an hour and altitudes ranging from 137 to 104 miles.

A guidance error shot the satellite higher than planned but this did not interfere with its camera eyes.

On the first orbit, the vehicle transmitted pictures of cloud cover over the southeastern United States and a few orbits later relayed photos of storm clouds off Newfoundland.

Firm Files Suit

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—The Paragould Music Co. has filed suit in Clay Chancery Court challenging a Piggott city ordinance which bans pinball machines.

The company owns several pinball machines that were in use in Piggott until the city council banned them May 7 as a public nuisance.

Sentence of Blind Woman Suspended

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 59-year-old woman who claimed to be blind received a three-year suspended sentence on a manslaughter conviction in Pulaski Circuit Court Tuesday.

Tennie Norman was charged with second degree murder in the shotgun slaying of John A. Phillips, 73, at her home in nearby College Station Jan. 7.

The woman appeared in court carrying a white cane and escorted by another woman. Judge William Kirby asked if she were blind and she replied, "Well, I can't see nobody."

She testified Phillips threatened her with the shotgun and it fired while she was struggling with him for possession of it.

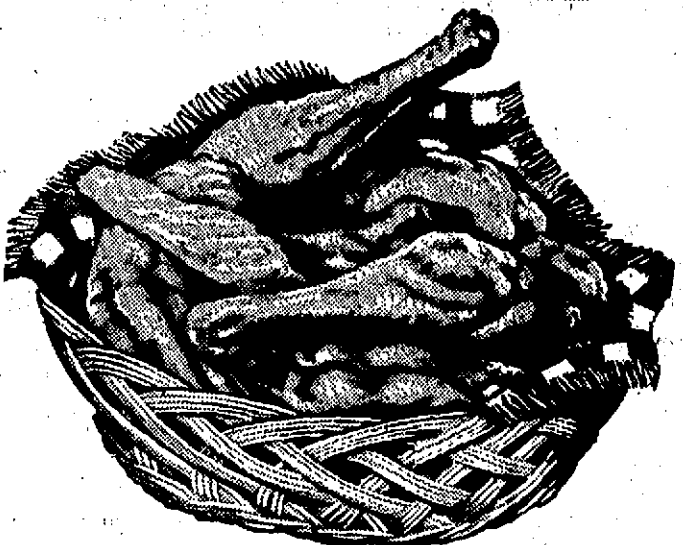

Kirby asked how she could see the weapon and she said she could feel it because she was standing near Phillips.

Kirby reduced the charge from second degree murder to manslaughter.

Ring Around Coffee Cake

"Round" about breakfast time, here's a tender delicious coffee cake you'll be delighted to serve. This delicately orange-flavored muffin ring sports a crisp crumble topping, drizzled with confectioners' sugar icing for extra goodness.

For real early-risers, bake Ring Around Coffee Cake the evening before to warm in the oven next morning before serving. It's quickly prepared in the morning as well, requiring only 25 to 30 minutes baking time.

With this coffee ring and other quick breads, self-rising flour is the reason for their double-quickness. Leavening and salt are pre-measured and added to the flour to give you optimum results in all your baking. And don't forget those important nutrients — thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, calcium and iron — that enrichment of the flour provides, to make these home-baked breads as good for you as they are good to eat.

1 egg
2/3 cup milk
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
2/3 cup sugar
Beat egg slightly. Stir in milk and butter or margarine. Sift together sugar and flour. Add liquid ingredients to dry ingredients and add orange rind, stirring only until all flour is moistened. Pour into well-greased 9-inch ring mold. Sprinkle with Crumble Topping. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool on rack 5 minutes. Remove from pan. When cool, drizzle confectioners' sugar icing over Crumble Topping.

Crumble Topping
1/4 cup enriched self-rising flour
1/4 cup enriched bread crumbs
1/4 cup sugar
Combine flour, bread crumbs, sugar and cinnamon, mixing well. Cut or rub in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly. Makes one 9-inch coffee ring.

Ambition as Child, Not to Be Poor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"My big ambition as a child was not to be poor," said Robert Ruark, who likes to be known as the world's fastest two-finger typist.

"Money doesn't buy itself mean happiness, but it's a hell of a necessity. A guy who can buy a bottle of whisky is better off than a guy who can't buy a bottle."

"There's nothing you can do poor that you can't do better rich—except beg."

At 36, Ruark, columnist turned novelist, is in no imminent danger of having to hold out a tin cup to passers-by.

In 16 years, this latter-day Rich and Harding Davis estimates he has turned out more than 1,000 magazine articles and 10 books. His latest, a novel of African independence, is a Book-of-the-Month selection.

If it does as well as an earlier African novel, which sold to the movies for $300,000, Ruark should reap a harvest of $750,000 or more for it.

Not bad for a country boy whose only desire was to get out of town and see the world.

Born in Southport, N.C., at the age of 15—he was still in knickerbockers—to enter the University of North Carolina. He was graduated at 19. Soon after he was working for a federal agency as an accountant.

"It took them three months to find out I'd never even had a course in bookkeeping," he recalled. Fired from that job, Ruark became an ordinary seaman, then worked as a newspaperman until World War II, during which he commanded a Navy gun crew on a freighter.

Bob returned to his newspaper typewriter then, and in six months worked up from $125 a week to $300,000 a year as a columnist.

Brash and self-confident, Ruark, despite an intermittently ailing liver, lives with a tremendous gusto, thrives on controversy and adventure. His left arm is still laced with the scars by a wounded leopard he shot recently in India.

He works hard, plays hard and spends freely. Not long ago he picked up a $2,000 tab for a party he threw merely to let some old friends know he was passing through town.

"But I think it's about time I quit that sort of thing," he remarked.

He smokes 80 cigarettes a day—"but only about an inch of each"—and still restlessly travels from 100,000 to 150,000 miles a year.

But the boy is growing older and feels now he'd like to settle down for a while.

Ruark owns a Rolls-Royce, homes in London and Spain, and

State Police Arrest 3,015

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Police arrested 3,015 traffic violators and obtained 2,732 convictions in May, according to the department's monthly report.

Officers charged 606 persons with driver's license violations and convicted 530.

Other offenses, with number of convictions in parentheses, included: drunk on highway 302 (297), driving while intoxicated 354 (354), improper passing 204 (192), and speeding 472 (458).

Unnamed Agri Official Is Accused

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson accused an unnamed former Agriculture Department official Tuesday of ordering approval of illegal transfers of cotton allotments to Billie Sol Estes.

Wilson voiced the charge while representatives of Estes creditors conferred in Dallas with lawyers on a plan for getting back the millions which the West Texas promoter owes them.

Wilson said he was convinced that a Washington official ordered Henry H. Marshall, production adjustment administrator found dead of bullet wounds last year, to approve the transfer of acreage allotments to Estes.

A spokesman for Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said there would be no comment on Wilson's remarks.

Wilson's staff has been investigating the affairs of Estes while a county grand jury at Franklin, in central Texas, tried to determine whether Marshall, 52, was slain or took his own life. The grand jury didn't have enough evidence to set aside an inquest verdict of suicide.

A seven-man committee representing Estes creditors will meet Friday in El Paso to consider a plan for salvaging his financial empire. If the group approves, it will be submitted to U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason.

Spokesmen for the creditors said Tuesday they were optimistic but would give no details of the proposal.

Estes was indicted on federal charges of fraud by obtaining millions in loans on fertilizer tanks which the government claims never existed.

He keeps busy a staff of 15 servants, secretaries and agents.

Bob's credo: "Everything I saw that I wanted I chased; everything I chased I caught; everything I caught I enjoyed."

"But life is a matter of giving, think of myself first to get."

We'll Catch United States Mr. K Says

BUCHAREST, Rumania (AP)—

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Rumanian collective farmers Tuesday at Ceacu it takes brains and capital to catch up with the United States, but it will be done.

"We have the brains and we will get the capital and then we will overtake them," the Soviet leader declared.

Khrushchev admitted that communism had difficulties in persuading peasants to accept collectivization.

"Do not be too proud that you in Rumania have finished collectivization of farms," he said.

"There is always the psychological problem of the soul of the peasants. No one is born a Communist. After collectivization, the peasant goes to look for his own horse and feels that it is still his

Settlers May Flee Algiers, Union Warns

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGERS (AP)—Algeria's European labor unions warned today that unless autonomous zones are set up in western Algeria for the European population, it will call on the settlers to flee the country.

A communique from the Joint Committee of Labor Unions in Oran said the Moslem nationalist leaders must sign an agreement officially sanctioning the partitioning of the territory by June 30.

If not, the communique said, the committee will be forced to demand the immediate departure of "own property."

Khrushchev, who is on a week's visit to Rumania, seemed tired. He spent a grueling six hours in hot sun visiting the collective farm and a field crop research station at Fundulea.

the population to avoid genocide.

It was the second European ultimatum in Algiers in the past 12 hours. Tuesday night the Algiers command of the Secret Army Organization called for immediate incorporation of Europeans into the local Moslem security force to maintain order.

European settlers in western Algeria for some time have been demanding a regroupment of the population along ethnic lines. The secret army has been attempting to form defensive bastions in Oran, Sidi bel Abbes, Mostaganem, Arzew and Perregaux.

The Moslem Nationalists condemned the plan Tuesday. Nationalist Premier Youssef ben Khedda said Arab youths have pledged to help Algeria in dealing with "imperialists" attempting to carry out a partition.

The unions called for international solidarity in organizing a speedy evacuation of Europeans from Algeria in case the demands are not granted.

Frenchman Sentenced by the U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A French

national trying to leave the United States with $247,400 cash in a valise has been sentenced to six months in jail for refusing to say where he got the money.

The Frenchman, Antoine B. Riniere, 42 said he is an international art dealer. A Federal Narcotics Bureau agent said he is well-known to the bureau and had been under surveillance since his arrival in this country.

Riniere was detained at Idlewild Airport Monday night when he arrived aboard a Swissair flight bound from Chicago to Switzerland with a scheduled stop at Montreal. The plane set down here because of engine trouble.

Customs agents checked a valise he carried and found the cash.

U. S. Atty. Joseph directed that he be taken before a federal grand jury investigating a narcotics smuggling ring.

The prosecutor said Riniere declined to answer the same questions for the jury. He was taken before Judge Walter Bruchhausen in Brooklyn federal court—where his refusal to answer brought him two three-month jail terms, one for each question.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Joseph Marchese said Riniere arrived in New York June 12 and went to the 21 Club to meet a man Riniere identified only as an art salesman. The man failed to show up and Riniere flew to Asheville, N.C., where he remained until he flew to Chicago Monday to board the Zurich plane.

Commercial fishing is carried on at Augusta and Patterson in Woodruff county.

Two Killed in Camden Wreck

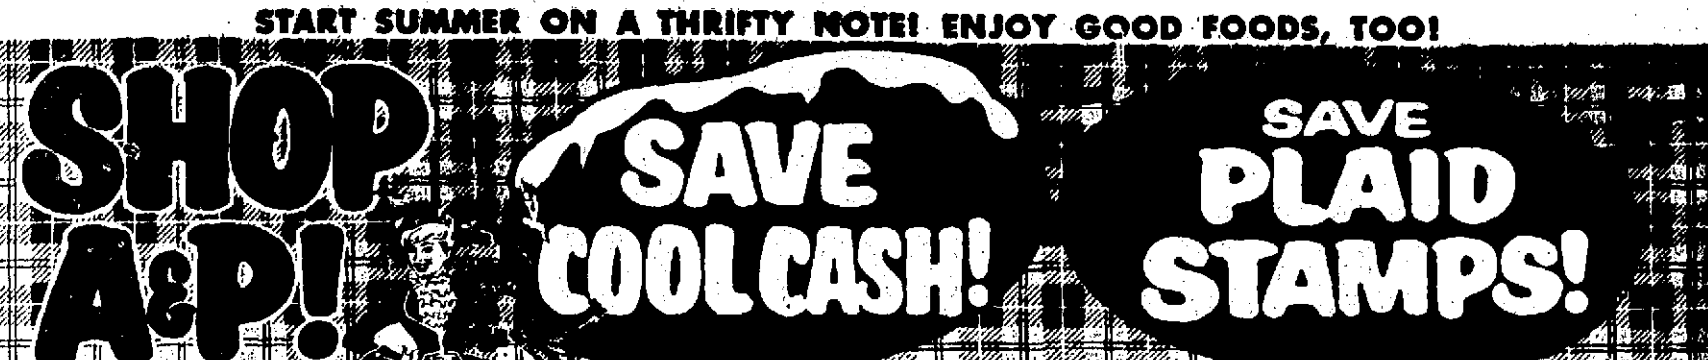

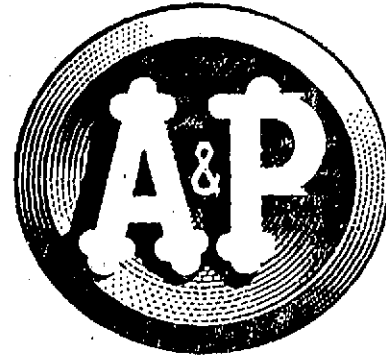

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—A flatbed trailer truck hit a bridge abutment and plunged over a 25-foot embankment today, killing two

The bodies of John L. Crawford, 23, and Harold Wayne Moss, about 23, were pinned in the wreckage. One had to be cut loose with torches.

The accident occurred on Highway 79, about one mile north of the Ouachita River bridge.

Police said the men, employees of the Livingstone Lumber Co., of Salem, Ky., were returning a load of lumber somewhere south-west of Camden.

General George Izard, second governor of the Arkansas Territory, was a scholarly aristocrat from South Carolina, had seven razors—one for each day in the week.

Instant Summer Refreshment— Iced Coffee By the Pitcherful

In summer, the less fuss, the better, even when you're entertaining. The only way to stay cool and calm is to minimize the work and keep the refreshments on the frosty side.

Take, for instance, this tall pitcher of iced coffee, coolly waiting for a kaffeklatsch to begin. You don't even have to get out a coffee-pot to make it. This is the instant variety, prepared by the pitcherful. If you follow the simple directions below, you can "brew" enough for six big glasses at a time.

Instant Iced Coffee
6 level measuring tablespoons instant coffee powder
4 measuring cups water
Plenty of ice

Measure the instant coffee powder into a pitcher and add 1 cup warm water. Stir to dissolve coffee. Add 3 cups cold water and stir. Chill the beverage with plenty of ice. Pour into 6 tall glasses, making sure that each contains its generous share of ice.

You can, of course, make excellent iced coffee with regular coffee and coffee ice cubes. Brew a little extra coffee at breakfast, cool it, then pour the cooled coffee into your refrigerator ice tray. Turn the temperature control high for quick freezing. At serving time, brew regular strength coffee and pour it over the coffee cubes. The melting ice will add flavor instead of diluting the drink.

Serving Tips
There are two other pointers to remember when serving iced coffee. If you use cream, get the best you can find. It makes a big difference in the flavor of iced coffee. For a sweetening, use a simple sugar syrup which goes into solution immediately. To make the syrup, stir and boil equal quantities of sugar and water for seven minutes. Cool, then store in the refrigerator. It keeps indefinitely.

With iced coffee, you need very little further refreshment. Vanilla Fudge Sandwiches are fine, easily made by spreading fudge frosting between vanilla wafers. You'll find these dainty sandwich-cookies and tall, tingling glasses of iced coffee are exactly what you need to refresh you on a warm summer afternoon.

Talks by Ford, Union to Cleveland

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union moved to Cleveland today as both the company and union issued statements on their positions on issues involved in a strike at a key stamping plant.

The strike which began June 6 at Ford's Walton Hills, Ohio, plant near Cleveland has idled 70,000 Ford workers.

UAW representatives requested the transfer of negotiations Tuesday after a three-hour negotiating session failed to make progress.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, charged that Ford had provoked the strike of 3,200 Walton Hills plant workers to serve what he said were the company's political purposes in Michigan.

Reuther offered to meet personally with Henry Ford II, company board chairman.

Two Ford officials made public today the company's position.

Charles H. Patterson, vice president-manufacturing group, and M. M. Cummins, Ford director of labor relations, said UAW members at the Walton Hills plant are "a more militant type of unionist" than at the company's Chicago stamping plant.

Cummins and Patterson said the average number of pieces in the quarter panel operation (a key dispute in the strike) is lower at the Walton Hills plant than it was at the Chicago plant from which

Texarkana Back Quits Porkers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mike Edwards, a speedy 200-pound half-back from Texarkana, has quit football at the University of Arkansas, Coach Frank Broyles disclosed Tuesday.

Broyles said Edwards, who was redshirted last fall, left the squad for personal reasons. The coaching staff planned to work him at tailback or fullback this fall, Broyles said.

Broyles was in Little Rock on the way home from Texarkana where he had a speaking engagement.

It was transferred last December. Both executives also said the UAW gave Ford 30 minutes notice the night of June 6 that it was going to strike.

The number of Ford employees idled because of parts shortages resulting from the strike climbed to 70,000 Tuesday with layoff to an additional 20,000 workers in the company's manufacturing plants across the nation. Operations involved in truck production are continuing.

Henry Ford II told a news conference in San Francisco the strike, over a work standards dispute, may delay the marketing of the company's 1963 model automobiles.

Reuther's charge was that Ford provoked the strike in an attempt to win Michigan Gov. John Swainson's approval of a legislature-passed bill which would nullify a state Supreme Court decision permitting workers laid off because of a strike in another plant of the same corporation to collect unemployment compensation.

IDEAL GIFT FOR MODERN HOMEMAKERS

The perfect present for the Homemaker-Hostess who appreciates beauty and utility, is the new seven-piece "Cuttin' and Cookin'" utensil set with decorated handles. The decoration is integrally imprinted and encased in a new Space-Age material that will not rub off or chip. Imperial-Ware is also dishwasher safe. The new utensils were especially designed to combine beauty and elegance with every day utility in the kitchen, out-of-doors or at the most formal dinner.

The new seven piece utensil set contains three knives — French chef's, Gourmet-Slicer, Slicer Carver and three cooking utensils — Spoon, Fork and an all-purpose turner, plus a hardwood holder for the pieces. Imperial-Ware's "Cuttin' and Cookin'" set is packaged for gift-giving and is the perfect present for the modern homemaker who is style-conscious, color-conscious and decorator-conscious. The pieces are also available separately in "cutting" or "cooking" sets and open stock.

GOPs Making Play for Vote in Dixie

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican high command, banking heavily on the theory that the South is conservative, is making a big effort this year to loosen the traditional Democratic moorings of Dixie.

The 11 states usually classed as Southern will hear more campaigning between major parties in 1962 than at any time in a century. The states are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

A few statistics will illustrate the stirrings of the GOP in an area where not so many years ago Republican was considered a naughty word.

This year the Republicans expect to have 60 or more candidates running in these states for seats in the U.S. House of Representatives. Two years ago they had only 38 candidates.

The 11 states will have a total of 106 seats in the new House (This is the same as they have in the present House, some of the states are losing seats as a result of the 1960 census, others are gaining, but the gains and losses exactly balance each other.)

Of these 106 seats in the present House, only 7 are held by Republicans. The GOP has high hopes of picking up some more.

Although all the primaries and nominating conventions have not been held yet, the Republicans will have U.S. Senate candidates fighting it out with Democratic foes in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina and perhaps Louisiana.

Of the Southern states selecting governors this year they will have candidates in Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas. A. Edward Smith, Georgia's first Republican candidate for governor since Reconstruction days, was killed June 5 in a traffic accident. A party executive committee meets today in Atlanta to decide whether to call a state convention to pick another nominee.

Mississippi is the only one of the states where the GOP has no candidate for major office. Party officials say grass roots building for the future is in progress there. In local politics in many Southern states the GOP is also becoming more vigorous, mounting campaigns for such offices as mayor, city council or state legislatures.

Many reasons are given for the beginnings of a two-party system in the South, including increasing industrialization and the waning of animosities born of the Civil War and Reconstruction.

But Lee Potter, who has crisscrossed the South on travels designed to strengthen the party, contends the main reason is that many Southerners consider the Democratic party too liberal.

Potter, who as assistant to the Republican national chairman is in charge of "Operation Dixie," says: "Southerners are basically conservative and many of them don't find conservatism in the Democratic party."

In a number of cases Republicans are running candidates who formerly were Democrats. For example, Floyd Spence only a few months ago was sitting in the South Carolina Legislature as a Democrat. But he broke with the party and is now the Republican nominee for the U.S. House of Representatives from the 2nd South Carolina District.

Jack Cox, conservative, ran for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Texas two years ago. He gave Gov. Price Daniel a hot race but lost. Now he has switched parties and is the Republican nominee for governor.

Egypt, in Craighead county, was so named because promoters of the area called it "the Promised Land."

Aberdeen, on a White river bluff near St. Charles, and on the original old stage coach line, was prominent place in Arkansas a century ago.

Woods Gets Backing for P. O. Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., announced today he has recommended that David P. Wood be given a non-competitive examination for the job of postmaster at North Little Rock.

Alford's action apparently shut the door to the possibility that Arnold Sikos, Gov. Orval E. Faubus' executive secretary might get the job.

Sikos had expressed interest in taking a competitive examination for the job.

Under Civil Service Commission regulations, the Post Office Department can give a non-competitive examination to promote a career postal employee or an open competitive examination.

Wood has been a postal employee 17 years, the last 11 as assistant postmaster at North Little Rock.

Alford said Wood's qualifications were unquestionable from the beginning but he tried to give consideration to the candidate endorsed by the present state administration (presumably Sikos).

"I refuse, however," Alford said, "to submit to political pressures."

North Little Rock has had an

Emerson Plant Is Picketed

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—The Emerson Electric Co. plant in Paragould was picketed today by Local 77 of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The strike began at 4 a.m. today after contract negotiations did not result in a settlement Tuesday night.

Ben Juley, IUE field representative, said workers want changes in the contract to cover plant wide seniority, a different type of insurance benefits, vacation and holiday pay based on average earnings, and other items.

Some 14 sign-carrying workers were at the plant today, but a company official said a majority of workers on the morning shift crossed picket lines.

The official said the plant would remain open for those who want to work.

The $275,000 Emerson plant opened in December, 1956. It employs about 400 persons. It could not be immediately determined how many workers honored picket lines.

Acting postmaster, Eugene Burks, since March 13, 1961.

Alford said he had asked Sens. John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright to help in getting Wood's appointment confirmed by the Senate at the earliest possible date.

Texas Rules 1st in SWC; Porks Feared

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major change in the football rules this fall will allow a team to kill a punt inside the opposition's 10-yard line. Previously the ball had to be left alone and unless it killed itself inside the 10, it became a touchback and the opposition got it on its 20.

This rule may be all Texas needs to become the nation's No. 1 team. Texas under Darrell Royal always has depended on kicking to win ball games probably more than any other phase.

Texas has a kicker who may turn out to be the finest in Southwest Conference history. He is Ernie Koy, son of a Longhorn great.

The longhorns already are regarded as well above the field in the Southwest Conference and likely to be the pre-season No. 1 pick in the nation. Texas just flat has the men.

There are 26 lettermen roaming the 40 acres with prospects of a stronger team than won nine out of ten and the Cotton Bowl to boot last campaign. Texas has such line backs as Jerry Cook, Tommy Ford, Ray Page and Pat Culpepper, that demon linebacker. The Longhorns are two and three deep at all line positions.

The main question seems to be who's going to finish second. From here it looks like Texas Christian, the only team able to beat Texas last year but most erratic on other Saturdays. There are 29 lettermen in Frogtown and they have a line that will average 6 feet 4 inches in height. Sonny Gibbs, the 6-7 quarterback, is being hoisted for All-America.

Texas A&M has 28 lettermen and those Aggies are big and powerful. Texas Tech comes up with 26 lettermen and nine starters from last year, headed by full-back Coolidge Hunt.

The Aggies and Techs should be greatly improved and the former ought to make a real bid for a first division berth.

Baylor has 23 lettermen, including Ronnie Goodwin, also being hoisted for All-America. The Bears may be better than they were last season when injuries ruined their chances.

Southern Methodist has 25 lettermen, which sounds like the Methodists should be loaded for new coach Hayden Fry. However, those fellows were able to win only two games last season. They would have to be improved about 50 per cent to win two more than that.

Rice has only 12 lettermen but Coach Jess Neely says he's going to have a good team. It wouldn't appear good enough to contend for the championship.

Which brings up Arkansas, the team that always confounds the critics. Arkansas hasn't been picked for the championship in years but has won one outright and tied for two in the last three seasons.

There are only 17 lettermen in the ranks of the Razorbacks this season which, however, may not mean much. Arkansas had quite a reg shirt list last fall and those guys got almost as much experience as the men who played. Also, Frank Broyles is about the finest coach in the country.

This time the critics are quite wary about Arkansas. They aren't planning on being caught off guard again.

The Arkansas alumni industry spends over 60 million dollars annually for salaries and services.

According to the latest government survey, growth of softwood sawtimber in Arkansas exceeds the harvest by 24 percent.

Walnut Ridge was named for the walnut trees that grew there when the town was surveyed.

A Favorite From The Freezer

Orange Cereal Flake Loaf, a quick bread that is best served cold.

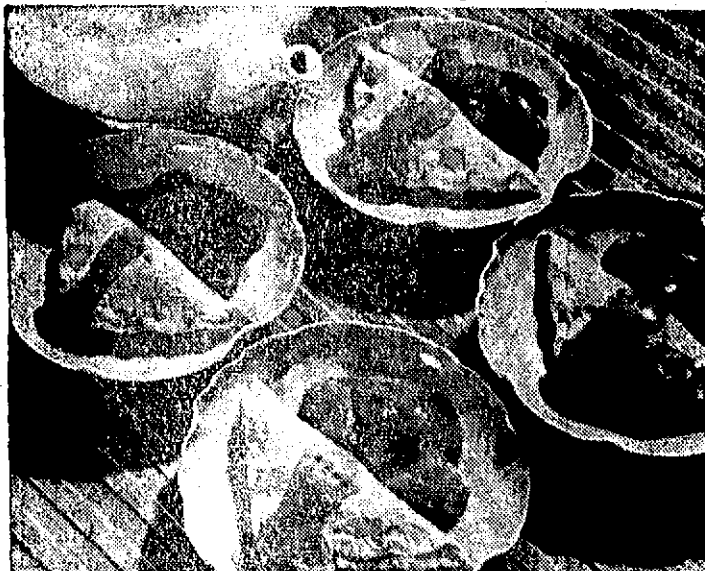

Most quick breads are best served as soon as they are baked, but breads that are made in loaf pans usually contain cereal flakes, chopped nuts or fruits, and are apt to crumble if sliced hot. So the "loaf" is the one big exception to the "bake and serve hot" rule that is part of the tradition surrounding quick breads. After baking, cool the loaf about 10 minutes in the pan, then turn it out onto a rack and cool completely. Wrap in foil or saran and let stand overnight. Wrapped with extra care, patting out all air, this bread can be frozen, and will keep very well for two or three weeks. And a comforting item it is to have on hand for that quick snack needed before or after a tennis game. In addition to adding color and texture to the bread, corn flakes add to the vitamin B content by providing additional thiamine, niacin and riboflavin.

Orange Cereal Flake Loaf

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour	1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 teaspoons baking powder	1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt	1 cup orange juice
1/2 cup sugar	3 tablespoons melted fat or cooking oil
1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind	1 cup corn flakes

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar; stir in orange rind and nuts. Combine egg, orange juice, and fat; add to flour mixture and stir just until well mixed. Blend in cereal flakes. Turn into greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) until done, about 1 hour. Cool on rack 10 minutes, then remove from pan. Yield: 1 loaf, 9 x 5 x 3 inches.

Peach Flips

Calling all teen-agers! You'll really "flip" when you try this new snack-dessert idea, appropriately named Peach Flips. They're so easy you won't have to wait for Mom to fix 'em. You can make them yourselves.

Golden Peach Flips are little biscuit triangles, baked around rich peach slices. The biscuits are a snap, especially with self-rising flour. Sift the flour, cut in the shortening and add the milk. Knead the dough gently just 30 seconds, then follow the directions for rolling, cutting and filling the dough carefully. Use your fingers or the tines of a fork to seal the edges of the dough — they'll stay closed this way.

With self-rising flour, you "can't miss." There's no fuss with measuring and sifting in leavening and salt and no chance of omitting these important ingredients either. Peach Flips have the bonus of nutrition, too, in added B-vitamins, food iron and calcium when made with enriched self-rising flour.

PEACH FLIPS

3/4 cups sliced canned well-drained peaches (1-pound 4-ounce can)	1/2 to 3/4 cup milk
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour	2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup shortening	2 tablespoons brown sugar
	Peach Sauce

Drain peaches well, reserving syrup. Sift flour. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add 3/4 cup milk and mix lightly until dough sticks together. Add more milk if necessary to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out 1/4 inch thick to a 16 x 8 inch rectangle. Cut into eight 4-inch squares. Using 1 cup peaches, place slices on one half of each square. Dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with sugar. Fold over dough to form triangle and press edges together to seal. Prick top once with fork. Bake in hot oven (425°F) 15 to 18 minutes. Serve with hot Peach Sauce. Makes 8 Peach Flips.

Hot Peach Sauce: Combine 2 tablespoons cornstarch and reserved peach syrup. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add remaining peaches, heat over low flame and spoon over turnovers.
